

Leadership Conference

Effective Communication and Leadership in a Crowded Landscape

The Practice Directorate of the Canadian Psychological Association invites psychology clinicians, leaders in hospital and community programs, clinical researchers, academics, and students to this exciting 1.5 day conference. It is intended for members who are in leadership roles or are interested in leadership development. This conference highlights effective communication strategies, leadership skills, and processes to influence policy and practice.

Registration

Psychology Professionals	$100
Students	$25

* Meals included for the duration of the program.

To register, please complete the registration form and submit via email to ralex@cpa.ca or fax to 613-237-1647. Paypal payments can be made to finance@cpa.ca. Space is limited to 150 participants.

A block of rooms at the Delta Hotels by Marriott, Ottawa City Centre is being held until December 16, 2017 at the rate of $139/night. Please contact the Delta directly to book your room (613-237-3600).

Sessions

Dr. E. Kevin Kelloway, Saint Mary's University
Transformational leadership and how to foster leadership skills in others

Caroline Kealy, Ingenium Communications
Communicating your value with strategy

Dr. Travis Sztainert, University of Guelph
Influencing policy and practice planning

Dr. Heather Tulloch, Dr. Susan Farrell, Dr. Kevin Kelloway, Dr. Andrea Piotrowski
Panel session: Leadership in multidisciplinary and non-psychology settings

Please contact Dr. Rozen Alex at ralex@cpa.ca with any questions.

