Innovations in weight loss programs
From page 8

References, links and resources

Acceptance and commitment therapy as a well-being intervention
From page 10

References, links and resources

16. Gregoire, S., Lachance, L., Bouffard, T., & Dionne, F. (in press). The use of acceptance and commitment therapy to promote men-
The patient experience during wide-awake surgery on the extremities

From page 13

References, links and resources

How psychologists can contribute to individual well-being, organizational productivity, and saving the planet through better buildings

From page 17

References, links and resources

Coping successfully with age-related memory change: Using psychological science to empower older adults

From page 18

References, links and resources

Improving Learning in Education

From page 21

References, links and resources

Intellectual humility: A key priority for psychological research and practice

From page 21

References, links and resources

