

Assistant Director, York University Psychology Clinic (YUPC)

York University is known for championing new ways of thinking that drive teaching and research excellence. Our 53,000 students receive the education they need to create big ideas that make an impact on the world. Meaningful and sometimes unexpected careers result from cross-discipline programming, innovative course design and diverse experiential learning opportunities. York students and graduates push limits, achieve goals and find solutions to the world's most pressing social challenges, empowered by a strong community that opens minds. York U is an internationally recognized research university – our 11 faculties and 24 research centres have partnerships with 200+ leading universities worldwide.

In this role you will provide leadership in the development, management and delivery of clinical services geared to the training needs of graduate students as they progress through their graduate training in clinical and clinical-development psychology and; risk and financial management of the services these students will be delivering to the general public. Specifically, you will be responsible for coordinating intake training and delivery, developing and evaluating training experiences for approximately 25–30 graduate students on an annual basis, supervising a smaller cadre of students and providing direct clinical services to clientele with more serious mental health concerns. The latter two responsibilities are important revenue streams for the clinic and your performance will be tied to meeting revenue generation targets from these services. You will be responsible for the oversight and human resource management of administrative and supervisory personnel within the clinic and development and management of research initiatives. As a member of the clinic's leadership team, you will work collaboratively with key stakeholders and the Director in the development and implementation of the clinic's strategic plan, development and management of the clinic's continuing education program, and financial management of clinic's annual budget.

To be considered for this opportunity, you will bring the following:

Doctorate in Clinical Psychology, Registration with the College of Psychologists of Ontario with declared competency in assessment and intervention services across the lifespan with children, youth and adults. In addition, you will bring a minimum of 10 years recent relevant clinical experience post registration with children, youth and adults, with particular expertise in clinical supervision, the assessment of learning disabilities, and the provision of therapy with a clearly defined integrative framework.

For full position details and to apply to this exciting opportunity visit www.yorku.ca/jobs and refer to posting CPM-12020.

We offer comprehensive benefits and access to superb educational and recreational facilities. For more information on what York has to offer U please visit: <http://hr.info.yorku.ca/benefits/>

York University is committed to Employment Equity and encourages applications from all qualified candidates. The University welcomes applications from all qualified individuals, including individuals within the University's employment equity categories of women, persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities and aboriginal persons, individuals of diverse gender and sexual orientation and all groups protected by the Human Rights Code. York University is committed to employment equity and diversity and a positive and supportive environment.

York University offers accommodation for applicants with disabilities in its recruitment processes. If you are contacted by York University regarding a job opportunity or testing, please advise if you require accommodation. Please note, only those selected for an interview will be contacted.