

Psychology Advisor (Psychologist)

Are you a psychologist or new psychology graduate with experience in assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of psychological aspects of physical conditions? Do you understand the treatment of psychological reactions to workplace injury and psychological trauma? We have an opportunity for a psychologist to join our growing Mental Health and Addiction Services department and work with teams specialized in trauma, serious injuries, high-risk situations, brain injuries, occupational diseases, chronic pain, and difficult work relations.

You can make a difference as part of our interdisciplinary case-management teams, focusing on helping injured workers in their recovery, rehabilitation, and safe return to work. We offer a flexible Monday-to-Friday work week, a full- or part-time schedule, and can provide supervision for college registration purposes.

What you'll do

As a psychology advisor you will, in consultation with a senior psychology advisor:

- Engage in collaborative, proactive, individual case consultations
- Participate in team meetings
- Conduct file reviews and write clinical opinions
- Plan and monitor assessment and treatment services
- Assess injured workers to provide diagnoses, causality analysis, and treatment recommendations
- Offer educational presentations to staff to promote an understanding of psychology and the concepts and practices of case management

Is this a good fit for you?

We're looking for someone who can:

- Provide expertise in assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of psychological reactions to workplace injury and trauma
- Solve problems in an interdisciplinary, case-management setting
- Liaise with health care providers

Your background and experience:

- A graduate degree in clinical psychology, neuropsychology, or counselling psychology
- Current registration with the College of Psychologists of British Columbia, or eligibility for post-internship registration with the College of Psychologists of British Columbia
- A minimum of one year of relevant work experience, preferably in disability management, workers' compensation, insurance, a medical-legal setting, or health care
- Experience providing direct psychological/neuropsychological assessment and treatment services
- Training and experience in conducting psychological assessments and/or treatment in an institutional context

Who are we?

At WorkSafeBC, we're dedicated to promoting safe and healthy workplaces across B.C. We partner with workers and employers to save lives and prevent injury, disease, and disability. When work-related injuries or diseases occur, we provide compensation, and support injured workers in their recovery, rehabilitation, and safe return to work. We also work diligently to sustain our workers' compensation system for today and future generations. We're honoured to serve the 2.4 million workers and 245,000 registered employers in our province.

We recognize that our ability to make a difference relies on building a team with a rich variety of skills, knowledge, backgrounds, abilities, and experiences, and which reflects the diversity of the people we serve. We are committed to fostering a welcoming, inclusive, and supportive work culture where everyone can contribute as their best, authentic self. We encourage all qualified applicants to apply.

What's it like to work at WorkSafeBC?

It's challenging, stimulating, and hugely rewarding. Our positions offer tremendous diversity and excellent opportunities for professional growth. Every day, the work we do impacts people and changes lives. What we do is important and so are the people we do it for.

Our benefits

Being part of WorkSafeBC means being part of a strong, committed team. Along with a competitive salary, your total compensation package may include reimbursement of relocation expenses, vacation, optional leave arrangements, health care and dental benefits, and contributions toward your retirement pension. As a member of our team, you'll have access to services and benefits that can help you get the most out of work — and life, including the following professional development support:

- In-house education, mentoring, and consultation
- Access to the WorkSafeBC library and professional journals
- Professional continuing education
- Two annual professional memberships

Learn more about what we offer.

To apply

Visit WorkSafeBC Careers to submit a resume and cover letter that details your characteristics, accomplishments, and prior work experience related to the requirements for the position.

WorkSafeBC is an inclusive and accessible employer committed to employment equity objectives and invites applications from all qualified individuals. Only those under consideration will be contacted. If you're unsuccessful, please accept our appreciation for your interest.

This position is restricted to those legally entitled to work in Canada.