Psychology Advisor - Psychologist

Reference: 035671

Duration: Permanent, Full Time

Number of Positions: 2

Location: Richmond, British Columbia

Deadline date: January 28, 2021

Are you a psychologist or a new psychology graduate with experience in assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of psychological aspects of trauma and physical conditions? Do you have a thorough understanding of psychological reactions to workplace injury and workplace stressors? We're looking for registered psychologists and new psychology graduates eligible for registration to join our dynamic Mental Health Services team. You'll work with teams specializing in psychological trauma, serious injuries, high-risk situations, brain injury, occupational disease, chronic pain, and difficult work relations.

You can make a difference as part of our interdisciplinary case-management teams, focusing on helping injured workers in their recovery, rehabilitation, and safe return to work. We offer a flexible Monday-to-Friday work week, a full- or part-time schedule, and a choice of work location in offices across the province.

As a psychology advisor you will:

- Engage in collaborative, proactive, individual case consultations
- Participate in team meetings
- Conduct file reviews and write clinical opinions
- Plan and monitor assessment and treatment services
- Assess injured workers to provide diagnostic, causality options, and recovery recommendations
- Offer educational presentations to staff to promote an understanding of psychological aspects of workplace injuries and return to work best practices

We're looking for people who can:

- Provide expertise in assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of psychological reactions to workplace injury and trauma
- Solve problems in an interdisciplinary, case-management setting
- Liaise with healthcare providers

Your experience and educational background:

- Experience providing direct psychological/neuropsychological assessment and treatment services
- Training and experience in conducting psychological assessments and/or treatment in an institutional context
- Our registered psychology advisor position requires:
 - A graduate degree in clinical psychology, neuropsychology, or counseling psychology
 - Current registration with the College of Psychologists of BC (CPBC), or eligibility for an expedient registration with CPBC
- A minimum of three years of relevant work experience, preferably in disability management, workers' compensation, insurance, medical-legal setting, or healthcare

Our psychology advisor position requires:

- A graduate degree in clinical psychology, neuropsychology, or counselling psychology
- Current registration with the College of Psychologists of British Columbia, or eligibility for post-internship registration with the CPBC
- A minimum of one year of relevant work experience, preferably in disability management, workers' compensation, insurance, a medical-legal setting, or health care

Who are we?

At WorkSafeBC, we're dedicated to promoting safe and healthy workplaces across British Columbia. We partner with workers and employers to save lives and prevent injury, disease, and disability. When work-related injuries and diseases occur, we provide compensation, and support injured workers in their recovery, rehabilitation, and safe return to work. We also work diligently to sustain our workers compensation system for today and future generations. We're honoured to serve the 2.4 million workers and 245,000 registered employers in our province.

We recognize that our ability to make a difference relies on building a team with a rich variety of skills, knowledge, backgrounds, abilities, and experiences, and which reflects the diversity of the people we serve. We are committed to fostering a welcoming, inclusive, and supportive work culture where everyone can contribute as their best, authentic self. We encourage all qualified applicants to apply.

What's it like to work at WorkSafeBC?

It's challenging, stimulating and hugely rewarding. Our positions offer tremendous diversity and excellent opportunities for professional growth. Every day, the work we do impacts people and changes lives. What we do is important and so are the people we do it for.

Our benefits

Being part of WorkSafeBC means being part of a strong, committed team.
