Department Name

Adult Eating Disorders - Mental Health Care Program

The Adult Eating Disorders Service (AEDS) is looking for a psychologist invested in providing empirically supported treatments to join our team!

This position reports to the Manager, Psychology and the Clinical Manager, Adult Mental Health and Addictions Program. The AEDS provides assessment, consultation, outpatient treatment, and intensive treatment for adults in Ontario living with eating disorders. The primary treatment modality is Cognitive Behaviour Therapy for Eating Disorders (CBT-ED). In this position, you will work on an interprofessional team that is comprised of dietitians, social workers, a nurse practitioner, a nurse, a psychometrist, a physician, and community mental health workers. The psychologist’s responsibilities include psychological assessment, diagnosis, and providing treatment to adults with eating disorders; program development and evaluation; education and training; and patient-centered supervision to our staff and students. The position also includes supervision of psychology residents in our accredited residency program. There is also the opportunity for adjunct faculty appointment with the Department of Psychology at Western University. The AEDS team is dedicated to improving our service and the treatment of eating disorders more generally; as such, the successful candidate will supervise the psychometrist to oversee program evaluation and research activities. Psychologists who are particularly interested in CBT-ED and ensuring that care is consistent with manualized, empirically supported treatments would be very well suited to the position. Supervision and support are available for new graduates who are required to become registered with the College of Psychologists of Ontario.

Our team is passionate and excited about the work we do and are eager to welcome a new team member.
