

University of Alberta
Educational Psychology
Assistant or Associate Professor, School & Clinical Child Psychology

Competition No. - A107544481
Closing Date - Will remain open until filled.

The Department of Educational Psychology in the Faculty of Education at the University of Alberta, invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in School and Clinical Child Psychology (SCCP).

We seek to recruit a scholar from historically under-represented groups at the University—including women, Indigenous persons, Black scholars, and scholars of colour, persons with disabilities and persons who identify as 2SLGBTQ+.

Key Responsibilities and Qualifications

The Department and Faculty offer a highly collegial and supportive work climate for new and established academics, with outstanding support for research and teaching:
<http://www.edpsychology.ualberta.ca/en.aspx>

Applicants must have:

- Earned a doctorate in School, Clinical or Counselling Psychology (or some combination thereof) by July 1, 2022, or shortly thereafter.
- Applicants must also be eligible for licensure with the College of Alberta Psychologists.
- It would be beneficial if the successful candidate could demonstrate research and practical expertise in at least one of the following areas, as they apply to professional practice in psychology: (a) the social contexts of health and well-being in marginalized communities; (b) equity, diversity, and inclusion in professional psychological practice; and (c) advancing racial-justice in school, clinical or counselling psychology.
- They will be expected to supervise graduate students and involve them in their program of research.
- The candidate will make outstanding contributions to the diversification of their scholarly fields and /or institutions of higher education.

Full consideration will be given to all applicants who meet the criteria listed above. Applicants who are graduates of a(n) CPA or APA accredited program or who have strong foundational knowledge in child/adolescent intervention/therapy are especially encouraged to apply.

The SCCP doctoral program has been accredited by the Canadian Psychological Association since 2015. The program is one of only two dual-accredited school and clinical psychology programs in Canada. The mission of the program is to provide students with theoretical foundations, research, and professional training from a scientist-practitioner model in preparation for a career involving research and/or professional psychological practice with children, adolescents, and families in a variety of settings. Every year the program receives over 100 student applications from across the country. Students in the program study full-time and many go on to receive tri-council funding and other prestigious awards. Importantly, 100% of graduates become employed in their disciplines after graduation, working in hospitals, universities, schools, and private practice all over Canada.

The University of Alberta (www.ualberta.ca) is one of the largest and most research productive universities in Canada. With more than 39,000 students from 146 countries, the U of A regularly ranks in the top 4 universities in the country and in the top 100 universities in the world according to QS Worldwide university rankings. The university offers highly competitive salaries and an excellent benefits package.

Greater Edmonton, Amiskwacîwâskahikan, is situated on Treaty Six Territory. We recognize and respect the history, languages, and cultures of the First Nations, Métis, Inuit, and all First Peoples of Canada, whose presence continues to enrich our institution. With over one million residents in the city and surrounding communities, the location offers a unique quality of life, a beautiful, park-like setting on a spectacular river valley, an international airport, the lowest provincial tax regime in the country, and is located in Canada's most optimistic and economically vibrant province. Edmonton boasts 78 arts and cultural organizations including the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, Edmonton Opera, Citadel Theatre and more than 30 arts and cultural festivals taking place each year.

Review of applications will begin March 1, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled, with a targeted start date of July 1, 2022 (or shortly thereafter). Only those applicants selected for interviews will be contacted.

How to Apply

To have your application considered, please select the Apply Online icon below and submit the following:

- Cover letter that includes highlights of the candidate's profile and the names of the three referees (include the names of three referees, letters of reference will only be requested for selected candidates. Referees should be prepared to send their letters by mid January)
- Curriculum vitae (CV)
- Research statement that outlines main areas of current and future research (submit under "Research Plan"). This research statement must include a list of publications and conference presentations.
- Writing samples from recent research publications or presentations (submit under "List of Publications")
- Teaching dossier that includes a brief teaching philosophy, evidence of, or potential for, teaching effectiveness, and sample course outline(s) (submit as an attachment under "Statement of Teaching/Research Interests").

Letters of reference will be requested from applicants selected for interviews. Applicants will be expected to contact the three referees and arrange to have them submit their letters of reference via email attachment to vs2@ualberta.ca specific questions about the position can also be addressed to Veronica Smith, Interm Chair, Department of Educational Psychology.

To assist the University in complying with mandatory reporting requirements of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (R203 (3)(e)), please include the first digit of your Canadian Social Insurance Number at the bottom of your cover letter. If you do not have a Canadian Social Insurance Number, please indicate this at the bottom of your cover letter.

COVID-19 Vaccination: Proof of full vaccination against COVID-19 in compliance with the University's COVID-19 Vaccination Directive is required. Fully Vaccinated means a status an individual achieves 14 days after having received the recommended number of doses of a COVID-19 vaccine approved by Health Canada or the World Health Organization, and requires the individual to maintain the recommended number and type of vaccine doses as updated and required by Health Canada thereafter.

Interested applicants may apply to: <https://apptrkr.com/2728038>

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University of Alberta is committed to an equitable, diverse, and inclusive workforce. We welcome applications from all qualified persons. We encourage women; First Nations, Métis and Inuit persons; members of visible minority groups; persons with disabilities; persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity and expression; and all those who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas and the University to apply.