DIRECTOR, YORK UNIVERSITY PSYCHOLOGY CLINIC

York is a leading international teaching and research university, and a driving force for positive change. Empowered by a welcoming and diverse community with a uniquely global perspective, we are preparing our students for their long-term careers and personal success. Together, we can make things right for our communities, our planet and our future.

The York University Psychology Clinic (YUPC), associated with the Department of Psychology in the Faculty of Health, is a state-of-the-art mental health and training clinic that has shown remarkable success and growth over its first decade. The Clinic has established a solid reputation in providing a range of leading-edge, effective psychological services to members of the York University community and the community at large, serving children, families, adults and seniors. In addition, the YUPC provides in house training opportunities to graduate students in the Department of Psychology's Canadian Psychological Association (CPA) accredited Clinical Programs.

Reporting to the Faculty Executive Officer, the Director, YUPC will take a strategic approach in shaping services to be delivered including virtual services, and in integrating research into this service delivery. The opportunity to innovate and develop partnerships with community organizations is vital. The Director has oversight of Clinical operations, responsibility for supervising students in a variety of assessment and intervention activities, facilitating collaborative research activities, fostering and strengthening community collaboration and knowledge mobilization and overseeing the development and delivery of a professional training and continuing education program. In addition, the Director is responsible for creatively leading and forging new directions to enhance the training of our graduate students to provide services to the increasingly diverse populations seeking mental health services.

To be considered for this opportunity, you will bring the following:

Must have a Ph.D. or equivalent in Clinical Psychology and be eligible for registration with the College of Psychologists of Ontario. A minimum 10 years recent clinical experience (preferably with children, adolescents and adults) including a minimum of 5 years supervisory experience. Administrative and/or managerial experience and a familiarity with community consultation/collaboration also required.
