

Job Opening: Psychologist

We have a current opening for a new psychologist. We are a thriving clinic in Vancouver. Duties would primarily be conducting psychoeducational assessments with children and adolescents. Neuropsychological assessments are also a possibility, as is supervision in neuropsychological tests. There are some opportunities for therapy with adolescents and adults as well. This position is open to registered psychologists and graduated pre-registration students. An ideal position for new grads! For more information, please email tech@draaron.ca
