Diversity Statement (on sidebar)

MacEwan University is committed to fostering the principles of equity, diversity, and inclusion within our community, and we are dedicated to removing barriers that have been historically encountered and are currently experienced by some members of our society. We welcome and encourage applications from Indigenous peoples, racialized persons, visible minorities, women, persons with disabilities, sexual and gender minorities, and members of all equity-deserving groups. We believe that the diversity of our students, staff, and faculty serve as a strength of our institution and benefit to society. We are committed to ensuring full and inclusive participation for all in our community.

About Us

MacEwan University is where caring faculty help people connect their passions to their future paths. Located in the heart of Edmonton's diverse and dynamic downtown community, and on the traditional lands of Treaty 6 First Nations and homelands of the Métis people, MacEwan is known for exceptional undergraduate learning. With its dedication to teaching excellence, informed by scholarly research, innovation, and creative activity, MacEwan provides an exceptional collaborative and supportive learning environment with a commitment to human rights, environmental sustainability, and opportunities for community engagement. We are committed to creating an equitable, diverse, inclusive, and welcoming community for all peoples, cultures, and identities.

Our comprehensive undergraduate university offers 59 programs to more than 18,000 full- and part-time students in business, communications, community and human services, design, fine and performing arts, health, humanities, natural science, nursing, public safety, and social science. Through a wide array of experiential learning opportunities, and strategic relationships in the community, we partner with others to produce graduates of stature. Along with a robust grounding in their chosen disciplines, MacEwan students are given durable life skills that prepare them to take on the world.
Opportunity

The Department of Psychology in the Faculty of Arts and Science invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment in Clinical/Counselling Psychology at the rank of Assistant Professor, commencing July 1, 2024, subject to final budgetary approval.

The successful candidate will have a doctoral degree in Clinical or Counselling Psychology or a closely related area and some graduate training from a CPA- or APA-accredited program. We will consider qualified candidates with research, professional practice or clinical expertise, and teaching experience in assessment and intervention with adults, children, youth, and/or families. The successful applicant will be expected to teach senior-level courses in Clinical/Counselling Psychology, Abnormal Psychology, 400-level courses (e.g., seminar or lab courses) in their area of expertise, and Introductory Psychology. In addition to teaching, the candidate will also be expected to develop a productive research program that involves the supervision of undergraduate students and be involved in service activities.

Applicants should electronically submit their cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy and interests (maximum two pages) along with evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., student evaluations, teaching evaluations, teaching dossier), and a statement of research interests and future research plans (maximum two pages). Candidates should also include reprints or preprints of no more than three recent papers, and the names and contact information for three referees.

Questions about this opportunity may be addressed to Dr. Aimee Skye, Department Chair, skyea2@macewan.ca.
