

Assistant or Associate Professor in Counselling (Tenure Track)

The Student Wellness and Counselling Centre of Memorial University of Newfoundland and Labrador is seeking a faculty member to join our expanding collaborative team of psychologists. We invite applications for a Tenure Track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor, or an appointment with tenure at the rank of Associate Professor, from candidates with clinical expertise and professional practice in Professional Psychology - Clinical or Counselling. The position will commence upon successful completion of the search (start date negotiable) on the St. John's, NL campus.

Memorial's Student Wellness and Counselling Centre (SWCC) comprises counselling and psychology, student health, and wellness professionals. The Centre aims to facilitate the health and wellness of the student body by providing integrated in-centre services and programs and connecting students with other campus and community resources. The SWCC's holistic and interprofessional approach to facilitating student wellbeing is reflected in our commitment to developing and furthering interprofessional scholarship and practice that cultivates a healthy campus community.

This Academic position will report to the Director, Student Wellness and Counselling Centre. As part of an academic unit that functions as a hybrid clinical training and practice site, the successful candidate will maintain a clinical practice and must hold the qualifications and experience needed to provide evidence-based psychological treatment and intervention to individuals and groups across a broad spectrum of student concerns and mental health issues. We welcome applicants with expertise in postsecondary mental health and a strong commitment to cultural humility and social justice. Some experience in assessment (including cognitive, psychoeducational, and psycho-diagnostic assessments) and training doctoral residents in assessment is an asset.

The successful applicant will have a central role in our training programs, and experience in clinical supervision is required. The candidate will be expected to supervise and train professional psychology residents in a well-established Canadian Psychological Association-accredited Doctoral Residency Program in an exciting phase of development, with the support of our experienced and dedicated Training Committee. Counselling faculty may also be involved in the supervision of graduate students and the interprofessional training of medical residents.

Reflecting its hybrid mandate and structure (clinical and academic), the SWCC embraces a comprehensive approach to research and scholarship that recognizes and fosters the unique and vital contributions of clinician scholars. The SWCC's Psychosocial Collaborative Research Unit (PCRU) reflects the high value placed on collaborative scholarship to address the gap between academic research and clinical practice. PCRU projects span scholarship of discovery, scholarship of integration, scholarship of application, and/or the scholarship of teaching. An established record with research, scholarship, and grant applications would be an asset.

Qualifications:

- Doctorate degree in Clinical Psychology or Counselling Psychology required (PhD or PsyD)
- Evidence of eligibility for registration as a Psychologist (R.Psych) with the Newfoundland and Labrador Psychology Board (NLPB) is required
- Knowledge of the mental health and counselling needs of students within a diverse post-secondary setting
- Experience in supervising and teaching psychology trainees
- Experience in counselling at a higher education site and/or working in a clinical team with varied theoretical orientations
- Scholarship activity, including knowledge dissemination

The ideal candidate would possess interest and expertise in one or more of the following areas: 2SLGBTQIA+ mental health; diversity and intersectionality; social justice and advocacy; psychological assessment; trauma-informed practice; and/or professional leadership.

Salary and benefits are in accordance with the Collective Agreement with the Memorial University of Newfoundland Faculty Association (MUNFA). For more information about MUNFA, see <https://munfa.ca>. This position is subject to final budgetary approval.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, applications from Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Candidates must therefore indicate in their application if they are a permanent resident or a citizen of Canada.

Applications will be processed as received and accepted until the position is filled or until the final closing date of July 8, 2026.

Memorial University is committed to employment equity, diversity, inclusion and anti-racism, and encourages applications from all qualified candidates, including: women; people of any sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression; Indigenous Peoples; visible minorities, and racialized people; and people with disabilities. All applicants are invited to identify themselves as a member of an equity-deserving group(s) as appropriate. Applicants cannot be considered as a member of an equity-deserving group(s) unless they complete an employment equity survey. Memorial is committed to providing an inclusive learning and work environment. If there is anything we can do to ensure your full participation during the application process, please contact equity@mun.ca directly and we will work with you to make appropriate arrangements.

Memorial University is the largest university in Atlantic Canada. We acknowledge that the lands on which Memorial University's campuses are situated are in the traditional territories of diverse Indigenous groups, and we acknowledge with respect the diverse histories and cultures of the Beothuk, Mi'kmaq, Innu, and Inuit of this province. As the province's only university, Memorial plays an integral role in the education and cultural life of Newfoundland and Labrador. Offering diverse undergraduate and graduate programmes to almost 18,000 students, Memorial provides a distinctive and stimulating environment for learning in St. John's, a very safe, friendly city with historic charm, a vibrant cultural life, and easy access to a wide range of outdoor activities.

VPA Reference Number: F14112-2023-202