Department of Psychology & Health Studies
Clinical Psychology
Assistant or Associate Professor

Applications are being accepted for two tenure-track positions in clinical psychology at the Assistant or Associate Professor rank (the maximum starting rank), effective July 1, 2027.

Applicants with research interests and training expertise (i.e., graduate teaching, clinical training/supervision, and research supervision) in any area of clinical psychology are encouraged to apply.

About the Role

The Graduate Program in Clinical Psychology at USask is undergoing a multi-year expansion. This expansion will include additional tenure-track clinical faculty, increases to the clinical student body, targeted funding for clinical psychology trainees and the addition of multiple Staff Psychologists.

We are committed to hiring outstanding scientist-practitioners who can make significant contributions to the research and training missions of the department and graduate program. The ideal candidates will have a doctoral degree (completed or near completion) in clinical psychology from an accredited or equivalent program, a strong research record, evidence of effectiveness in teaching and clinical/research supervision, and completion of (or in-progress) an internship in an accredited or equivalent setting. Successful candidates will demonstrate excellence or promise of excellence in teaching, research, and graduate clinical/research supervision. They will be expected to develop a vigorous, externally funded research program.

About the Program

The clinical psychology program, which provides generalist clinical training, was established in 1971 and has been continuously accredited by the Canadian Psychological Association (CPA) since 1990. The Department of Psychology and Health Studies has 25 faculty members, and 5 affiliate members from St. Thomas More College. There are over 75 graduate students completing an MA or PhD across four graduate programs: Cognition and Neurosciences; Culture, Health, and Human Development; Applied Social, and Clinical Psychology. We also offer undergraduate BSc and BAs in Psychology, a BASc in Health Studies, and Honours degrees. We value interdisciplinary research, and collaborations involving members across programs in our department is common.
